Task E

A hard people

I would like to our community will change. But for achieving this aim need more efforts. Not everything can change. More people behave bad and it is a main problem. These problems do to good community a mass of difficulties. Such people not only do difficulties but and interrupt good people to their live. Such people have a psychological problems or family problems and problems in communications. But such people can be so change if make some efforts. Then they will become gorgeous. These people need to understand and then their behavior will change. For it we must learn a psychology. It is interesting and will be able such people to decide their problems. Little piece of knowledge of psychology will be able to these hard people achieve the good results in their behavior. However, does not forget on you. I think who need to change yourself and after these hard people.
